

The School of Government

In association with the

The New Zealand Centre for Sustainable Cities

Invite you to hear

Dr. Eric Martinot

Renewable energy uptake in New Zealand Cities the vision and barriers

Dr. Martinot is the senior research director with the Institute for Sustainable Energy Policies (ISEP) and senior research fellow with the World Watch Institute and as lead author and research director of the widely-used REN21 Renewables Global Status Report, produced annually since 2005.

Programme for the seminar

5:30-6:00 Dr Martinot,

6:00-6.30 Nelson Mayor Kerry Marshall Greater Wellington Regional Councillor Paul Bruce respond with their visions.

6:30-7:30pm Questions and discussion.

Wednesday, 1 April 2009

5.30-7.30pm

Lecture Theatre 1 Old Government Buildings
Stout Street, Wellington

“Making Connections” will provide a three-fold focus on Issues, Inquiries, and Ideas, as part of delivering on the School’s commitment to public discussion, academic and practitioner interaction, and robust internal exploration of issues of public policy, public management and research excellence.

